7. On 26 April, the Friedrich Franz Kaserne was occupied to capacity. At dusk, the quarters in the Friedrich Franz Kaserne and those on Franz Mecker Strasse, Franz Kuenstler Strasse and Junker Strasse were about 95 percent lighted. Between 8 and 26 April, groups of 6 to 8 soldiers each would daily practice with 2 or 3 x 122-mm field howitzers, while groups of 10 to 12 men engaged in close-order drill, in the barracks yard. Four to six groups each of 18 to 20 men and each equipped with a heavy machine gun left for the training grounds on Stoeffner Weg almost daily. They took along a wooden aircraft model fixed to a pole and would return [redacted]

8. On 24 April, the See Kaserne was occupied to capacity. At dusk, the quarters in the installation and officers' billets on Karl Liebknecht Strasse, Schiffer Strasse and Scholten Strasse belonging to the See Kaserne were about 95 percent lighted. Four new lean-to roofs were erected in the southwestern section of the camp on 24 April.

9. On 26 April, the former garrison hospital was occupied to capacity. The installation was about 95 percent lighted at nightfall. The driving school in the former Fontane Schule engaged in driving practice daily from 8 to 26 April. [redacted]

[redacted] From 200 to 300 soldiers wearing red-bordered black epaulets and black-bordered black epaulets daily marched from the Friedrich Franz Kaserne to the driving school.

10. On 10 April, the warehouse administration of the Kech in Neuruppin told Neuruppin railroad station that the cars [redacted] belong to Gentzrode. Between 8 and 26 April, no troop entrainments were made in Altruppin and Neuruppin. An employee of the slaughterhouse told source that about 3,000 kg of meat were daily delivered to Neuruppin military post. The Vogt Tire factory and Vulcanization Plant was transferred to Berliner Strasse, Oranienburg, at the beginning of April 1953. On 20 April, a unit of about 200 soldiers wearing red-bordered black epaulets and black-bordered black epaulets with signal insignia, several officers, 4 radio trucks, about 12 trucks and about 5 jeeps were seen on the premises of the factory on 20 April.

11. Except for the loading practice, no entrainment of troops was made at the Altruppin railroad station between 3 and 20 April.¹

1. [redacted] Comment. The report tends to indicate that the units of the 12th Gds Tank Div stationed in Neuruppin were at the post until the end of April 1953. It appears that no changes in the distribution of troops onto the individual installations have occurred. The loading practice mentioned in paragraphs 6 and 11 was previously reported. [redacted] Infantry training up to platoon level and training with heavy weapons at battery level was repeatedly observed. The unit observed in the Vogt factory is possibly identical with the unidentified unit that left the Weisse Stadt Settlement in Oranienburg toward a northerly direction on 16 April. [redacted] confirms the 48th Gds Tank Div in the Fridericus Kaserne, Neuruppin, until 10 April 1953. [redacted] confirms the 49th Gds Tank Regt of the 12th Gds Tank Div in the Fridericus Kaserne, Neuruppin, until 10 April 1953. [redacted] confirms the unidentified AAA regiment of the 12th Gds Tank Div in the Friedrich Franz Kaserne, Neuruppin, until 10 April 1953. [redacted]
